

Esaote expands UK team with new Clinical Applications Specialist

Melanie Arnold has joined Esaote as a Clinical Applications Specialist covering the Southern part of the UK.

Melanie will provide dedicated support on the Esaote's ultrasound full product range in both the NHS and private sectors to fulfill the increased demand of our ultrasound systems, and the continuing growth of the customer base.

Melanie worked as a Sonographer for the last 10 years, said "I am very happy to be joining Esaote, and feel their ethos of delivering high performance ultrasound systems. Together with dedicated customer care, it will allow me to demonstrate my knowledge of the modality whilst developing a good working relationship with the Customers and the Esaote Team."

Esaote is one of the top ten global medical imaging companies specialising in ultrasound, MRI and healthcare IT, use of which has been growing for many years, helping to speed up and improve diagnosis.
